Background

Willie Oelofse is a Director in ALN Kenya | Anjarwalla & Khanna and heads the Forensics, Risk and Compliance practice. He has over 25 years' practical experience in forensic assignments covering multiple jurisdictions and industries and has successfully advised organisations in addressing complex matters on the risk of fraud, corruption, and non-compliance in both private and public sectors. Prior to joining ALN Kenya, Willie headed up the forensic teams at two of the Big Four accounting and auditing firms where he had overall responsibility for developing the organisations' forensic offering across East Africa.

One of Willie's passions is assisting organisations to implement financial crime strategies, policies and procedures that comply with required local and global regulations. He has a simple pragmatic approach of focusing on the facts, will hit the ground running, and is well known for his capability to effectively manage large and complex forensic assignments. He provides insight and advice during difficult and high-pressure forensic incidents and brings global, local, and cultural experience from working with leading global teams.

During his career, Willie has been involved in the growth and development of strong forensic teams with the skills, knowledge, and experience to deliver a wide range of forensic services that include:
